Derivative for hedging purpose: The use of derivatives for hedging in a rising market may restrict potential gains.

Liquidity risk: Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell. This can reduce the Fund's returns because the Fund may be unable to trade at advantageous times or prices.

Financial, economic and political risks: Financial instruments are impacted by various factors, of which, without being exhaustive, the development of the financial market, the economic development of issuers who are themselves affected by the general world economic situation as well as economic and political conditions prevailing in each country.

Risk linked to the use of derivative instruments: The Fund uses derivative instruments, which means financial instruments whose value depends on those of an underlying asset. Therefore fluctuations in the price of an underlying asset, even if minor, could lead to significant variations in the price of the corresponding derivative instrument.

Investment Strategy :

In order to achieve its investment objective the Fund will adopt a dynamic, opportunistic and determined style relying on fundamental analysis of successful companies, looking especially at the balance sheet structure, return on equity, cash flow, and management quality, as well as macroeconomic factors. Stocks are selected through stock-picking, if the Management Company identifies a specific aspect of the company, that in its opinion is not yet reflected in its price but which should logically and eventually lead to an appreciation.

The assets will have an exposure :

- from 60% to 100% on stock markets for all geographical sectors and all capitalization sizes;

- from 0% to 40% in fixed-income instruments of public or private issuers having a minimum A3 rating at the time of acquisition for the short term, or a BBB S&P rating for the long term or, failing that, an equivalent rating;

- from 0% to 100% on foreign exchange risk for currencies of the European Union and from 0% to 10% risk on currencies outside the European Union.

The reference currency of the Fund is the Euro.

The Fund may use derivatives instruments for the purpose of exposure and hedging its currency, market risks and the risks linked to interest rate fluctuations.

As the Fund is eligible for the French equity savings plan (Plan d'Epargne en Actions - PEA), it undertakes to respect a minimum investment of 75% in equities listed on European Union markets and eligible for the PEA.

The investor can buy or sell shares of the Fund on every day which is a bank business day in Luxembourg, at 12:00 (Paris time).

Incomes of the Fund are reinvested.
